HE IS...

BORING,

Government shouldn't make headlines like a sports event. It should be effective, responsive, collaborative, and boring. Noah has spent the past four years working on issues that matter: infrastructure, public safety, housing, and better service delivery.

ENGAGED,

Noah has shown up for nearly a decade, whether it's through the Merritt Community Club, his church, CHUM, PAVSA, the Lake Superior Zoo, One Roof, or the City Council, he'll continue to be an advocate for neighborhoods from Lincoln Park to Fond Du Lac.

CAFFEINATED

Government should be proactive in reaching out to constituents and hearing their concerns. As a city councilor, he had over 100 cups of coffee with Duluthians to get the full story about issues that matter to them. I put in the long hours needed to get things done.
